INLAND RIVER CRUISE VESSEL

150 passengers

HULL & DECK

The vessel's hull is plated with steel and is framed transversely and longitudinally in accordance with good marine practice for an inland river cruise vessel of its size and intended service.

The vessel is not classed and the U.S. Coast Guard Certificate of Inspection expired December 20, 2020.

The vessel's hull is protected by means of a rub rail fender system consisting of split tire, wood, and D-rubber fenders extending near the full length in way of the port and starboard sides.

The vessel's exterior decks are outfitted with 42" high decorative open bulwarks/safety rails extending around the periphery of all decks.

Deck fittings consist of a normal outfitting of bitts, etc. for a vessel in this service, including the following:

- Two each port and starboard bow 8" diameter double bitts
- Starboard bow mooring capstan
- Port, starboard, and centerline stern deck double bitts
- Starboard stern mooring capstan

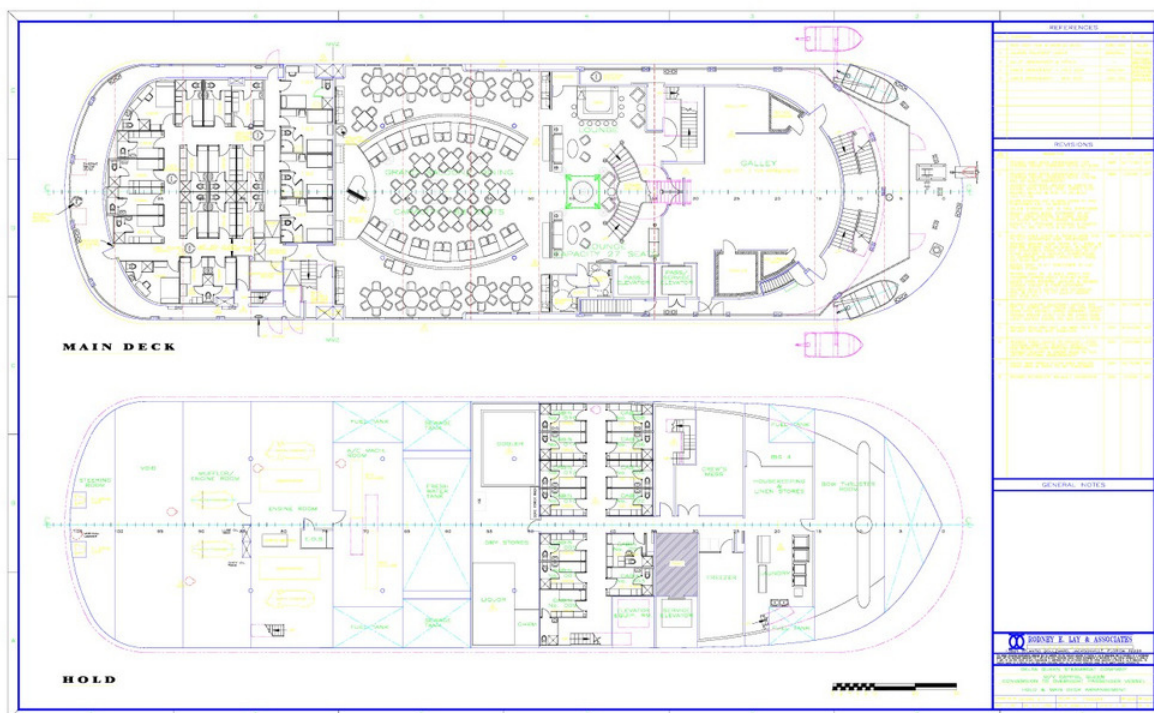

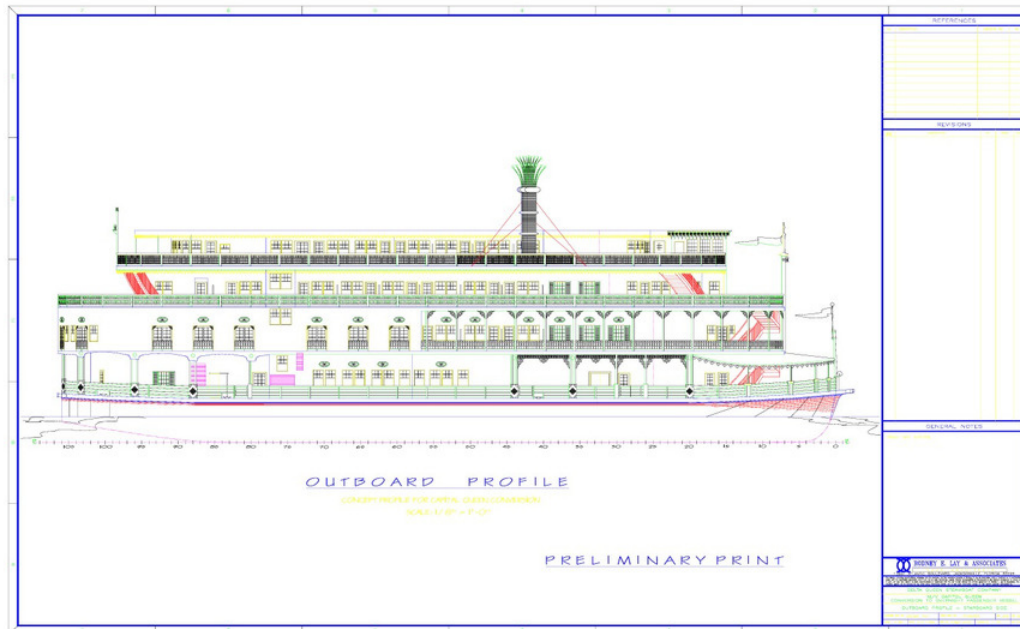

The vessel is outfitted with a Rasmussen anchor windlass mounted in way of the bow deck, complete with 100-HP electric drive motor and 3/4" anchor cable with an approximately 1,000-lb anchor.
